Description

BetonBlok 40×40×40 cm - Compact Modular Concrete Block for Light and Medium-Duty Applications

The BetonBlok 40×40×40 cm is the most compact modular block in our range, created for projects that require durable, stable and easy-to-handle concrete elements. Produced from high-quality C30/C37 structural concrete, this small-format block delivers impressive strength despite its reduced size. It is ideal for applications where precision, mobility and versatility are essential.

Technical Specifications

- Model: BetonBlok 40×40×40 cm
- Material: C30/C37 concrete
- Shape: Modular cube with interlocking studs
- Outdoor Performance: Fully resistant to frost, UV, moisture and temperature variations
- Fire Classification: BetonBlok elements with widths of 60 and 80 cm meet the fire-resistance criteria of EN 13501-2.

Key Features and Advantages

This BetonBlok model offers extremely easy handling due to its compact size and lower weight. It is ideal for smaller structures, temporary setups, organisational partitions, landscaping and a wide range of light industrial applications. Installation requires no mortar or foundations, allowing quick assembly and mobility — the block can be repositioned or reused at any time.

Each BetonBlok is produced using premium-quality materials and is covered by a manufacturer warranty. Despite its small size, the block maintains exceptional durability and long-term stability, even in outdoor conditions.

Primary Applications

- light partition walls in workshops and warehouses
- small storage bins for lightweight bulk materials
- boundary and safety markings
- temporary construction site dividers
- landscape and garden structures

Additional Use Ideas

- bases for small machines or equipment
- modular supports for temporary installations

- weight blocks for stabilising fences or signage
- garden edging or decorative modular structures
- small protective barriers in workshops
